Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Teacher Education consists of graduate and undergraduate programs. The undergraduate program is organized into four quarters, around foundations, methods, skills, and application courses. Graduate teacher education includes a two-year Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT). Teacher preparation programs at Seattle Pacific University require all teacher candidates demonstrate content, pedagogical, and professional knowledge and skills, along with meeting all endorsement competencies required for residency certification according to Washington Administrative Code 181-78A-270. All teacher candidates must demonstrate evidence of having a positive impact on student learning outcomes associated with state learning standards. A positive impact on student learning means showing evidence of student growth through effective planning, instruction, assessment, and reflection. Teacher candidates earning residency certification must demonstrate effective performance in field experience, clinical student teaching, and coursework. Assessment of effective performance in field experience and clinical teaching is done by comparing candidate performance to criteria defined in RCW 28A.405.100. Teacher evaluation criteria shown in RCW 28A.405.100 infer proficiency on professional dispositions, which are necessary for productive interactions with students, colleagues, administrators, and parents or guardians. Teacher candidates earning residency certification demonstrate proficient performance in coursework according to University requirements and widely agreed upon academic competencies and dispositions defined by the School of Education and also those standards informed by professional organizations.
