FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE March 6, 2007

It's A Mad World: NCAA Tourney Begins Fri. Falcon Women Face Sonoma First; Hill, Hollands All-GNAC

The Madness begins. With its grip on the Great Northwest Athletic Conference women's basketball championship once again, Seattle Pacific University is now hunting for bigger game. The Falcons (19-8) get their first taste of March Madness Friday (Mar. 9) against Sonoma State (14-12) in a first-round game. Top-seeded and No. 12-ranked UC San Diego (23-4) will host the West Regional in La Jolla. If SPU should advance, it may see a rematch of the last two regional championship games against 11th-ranked Chico State in Saturday's (Mar. 10) first semifinal. Monday night (Mar. 12) is the title game. The Elite Eight begins Mar. 21 in Kearney, Neb.

Best of the West. Although its depth has been depleted by injuries, Seattle Pacific keeps plugging along. The Falcons have gone 13-4 since December, winning four of the last five, including two on the road. This is their 11th straight trip to the NCAA tournament and 12th overall. They have advanced to the regional championship game each of the last four years and seven of the last 10. SPU went to the Elite Eight in 1998, '04 and '05, when it was national runner-up. All three regional titles were won on the Falcons' home floor.

Anybody's guess. Recent form has proven that the No. 1 seed is far from a shoo-in for a regional crown. Seattle Pacific fell at home in the '03 title game and then beat Western Washington on its own floor in last year's semifinal shocker. UC San Diego actually has a better record on the road (12-0) than at home (10-3). The Tritons, beaten by SPU in December, face Western (18-9) in Friday's nightcap. Other first-round pairings are Chico State (22-4) and Cal State San Bernardino (17-10) at 2:30, followed by GNAC runner-up Alaska Anchorage (22-5) and Cal State Dominguez Hills (16-10) at 5.

Calling Jackie's number. Appropriately, she wears the number 3 jersey. And if her current shooting form continues for another week, Jackie Hollands (Jr., 5-9, Oregon City, Or.) could be wearing a net around her neck next Monday. Hollands has been a house afire, averaging 20.3 points and shooting 77 percent in her last four games. She's coming off a career-high 24 points to clinch the GNAC championship with a 59-55 win at Seattle University. Hollands tallied 40 points, six rebounds, six assists and four steals in two contests last week. She has led SPU in scoring in each of the last four games, hitting 69 percent (18-26) of her three-pointers.

Hill is a mountain. If it's not one thing, it's another. Hollands stretches defenses with her long-distance shooting, and center Kelsey Hill (So., 6-2, Portland, Or./Portland Christian) punches holes inside. The first sophomore to pace SPU in scoring (11.9) and rebounding since 1991, Hill is a load. She was a unanimous first-team all-conference selection for ranking among the GNAC top 15 in five categories, including third in field-goal percentage (.514). She's coming off her seventh double-double and a career-high 17 rebounds at Seattle U. Hill scored six points and Hollands five during a second-half run of 14 straight points.

They noticed. Julie van Beek has got a balanced, blue-collar team with seven players scoring 6.0 or more points per game. Although it's a formula for winning, individual accolades are a hard sell. Still, Hill was not the only player getting opposing coaches' attention. Hollands was voted to the second team and both Rachel Strand (Sr., 6-0, Shoreline, Wa./King's) and point guard Beth Christensen (Jr., 5-5, Enumclaw, Wa.) received honorable mention. Hollands is the No. 2 scorer (10.9) and ranks seventh in the GNAC for steals (2.0), three-pointers made (1.9) and three-point accuracy (.370). Strand tops the conference in field-goal percentage (.558) and is 10th in rebounding (6.4). Christensen repeated as the league's best playmaker, averaging 4.9 assists.

Whatever it takes. Unlike the freewheeling years of 2003-05, van Beek's two squads have focused more on the defensive end by necessity. She lost four starters to graduation, including the nation's premier shot-blocker, and yet SPU has held the line, allowing only 60.3 points per game. In the second half of the campaign the Falcons have begun flexing their offensive muscles. They hit a school-record 17 three-pointers in one outing and have shot 50 percent or higher from the field in six of the final 15 games. They adapted as a team, ranking fourth nationally in assists (19.1) and by cutting their turnovers by 3.2 per game since last year.

And smart. The Falcons had seven players—the most of any school—named academic all-GNAC. Strand (Exercise Science, Sr., 3.39, Shoreline, Wa./King's) made it for a third year in a row. She's an exercise science major with 3.39 grade point average. Autumn Fielding (Psychology, Sr., 3.74, Kennewick, Wa.) and Christensen (Physical education, 3.57) were repeat selections. Hollands (Psychology, 3.49), Lexi Schaar (European studies, So., 3.35, Crookston, Minn.), Jessie Menkens (Communications, Sr., 3.30, Battle Ground, Wa.) and Jessie Christensen (Physical education, Jr., 3.27, Enumclaw, Wa.) were all first-timers.

Put-backs. Six of Seattle Pacific's losses were to NCAA tournament teams, including Div. I Gonzaga and Div. I-bound North Dakota, the No. 3 team in Div. II currently. The Falcons are 18-11 all-time in NCAA tournament play, having advanced past the first round in each of the past four seasons and in eight of their 11 previous trips...The West Region tournament is being hosted outside of Washington for the first time in five years. SPU hosted from 2003-05.....Hollands (24), Hill (14) and Strand (15) combined for 52 of SPU's 59 points vs. Seattle U...Christensen is second in GNAC assists-to-turnover ratio (1.75)...Strand is fourth in blocked shots (1.0)...Seattle Pacific was second in the GNAC in scoring (70.1) and third in scoring defense (60.3). The Falcons led the league in assists (19.11) and assists-to-turnover ratio (1.2), and were second in shooting (.426) and turnover margin (plus-3.9)...SPU is 17-1 when ahead or tied at halftime and 13-2 when out-rebounding opponents...Fielding missed the loss at Northwest Nazarene with a sprained foot but was back in action at SU...At Nampa, the Falcons rallied from 15 down in the second half to tie the score on a Libby Magnuson (Jr., 5-10, White Bear Lake, Mn.) jumper with 20 seconds to go in regulation. The Crusaders held on, getting two free throws with 1 second left...Magnuson started twice last week in place of Fielding...The Falcons have lost three players for the season, including centers Melissa Reich (Fr., 6-2, Bothell, Wa./Bellevue Christian) and Lexi Schaar (So., 6-4, Crookston, Mn.). Live stats are available for all regional games at <http://www.ucsdtriton.com/liveStats>...The eight losses are the most since 1998-99 (19-10).

Opponent and series notes. The Falcons are 4-3 all-time against Sonoma State, but have lost the last past two meetings, including a 56-49 loss to the Seawolves Dec. 8 at Rohnert Park. Hill had 15 points and 10 rebounds in the loss, in which SPU was held to its lowest scoring output of the season. Danae Wellander, SSU's leading scorer (13.3) and rebounder (5.7), was held to seven points in the win. Sonoma rebounded from a 3-7 start by winning 11 of its last 16 games to finish tied for fourth in the CCAA and advance to the NCAA tournament for the fifth time, its first appearance since 2004...The Falcons are 7-3 all-time against Chico State, but have lost the last three, including a 61-56 loss in the Sonoma State tournament and a 72-63 loss in the regional championship last season...SPU split its season series with Alaska Anchorage and holds a 31-12 all-time advantage...Seattle Pacific is 3-0 all-time against Cal State San Bernardino, which it hasn't faced since 2000...The Falcons also split their season series with Western Washington, suffering a last-second 60-58 loss in Bellingham, then avenging that with a convincing 76-52 win at home Feb. 24...Seattle Pacific has played UC San Diego four times, including two postseason meetings in the last three years. Fielding scored 15 in a 70-60 win in Las Vegas Dec. 19, and in a first-round matchup last year in Bellingham, SPU prevailed 62-57.

SPU Coaches. Julie van Beek is in her second season after establishing a record number of wins (24) for an SPU first-year coach and reaching the West Region championship game. Earlier, she built Nashville's Trevecca Nazarene into an NAIA national power. After starting the program from scratch, van Beek's last six squads reached the playoffs, including a national quarterfinal appearance in 2005. In nine years at the helm her record was 162-119. She is a native of Nampa, Id., and played at Northwest Nazarene. Michelle Skyles is in her second year as the top assistant, having moved from a similar position at Eastern Washington. Skyles coached Jerome to the Idaho state 4A title in 2004. Also in her second season is Sasha Anderson, who was previously head coach at Snohomish County Christian for five years.
