Important Notice: A declared major or minor in the School of Theology makes a student ineligible for Washington State funded financial aid. To mitigate this effect, Student Financial Services will replace Washington State Need Grants and Scholarships with grants from other sources (either SPU grants or Federal grants) SFS will also assist with students currently employed under Washington State's Work Study Program to find comparable employment elsewhere. Students remain ineligible for state funded work-study jobs (both school-year and summer) for the durations of their undergraduate education. If you receive any form of Washington State financial aid, we advise you contact your academic advisor and your SFS advisor before submitting this application.
